RAILWAY SIGNAL MEN SEEK WAGE INCREASE

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—A return to wartime wages and resumption of the basic eight hour day were requested before the United States Railroad Labor Board today by representatives of the Brotherhood of Railroad Signal Men of America. D. W. Helt, president of the brotherhood, opened the hearing for the employees of 42 railroads and their subsidiaries.

The signal men are seeking a return to the wages established by the board under decision number 2, of May 1, 1920, an average daily range of $1.72 to $7.94 a day. They ask in addition for differentials above those rates for foremen.

The signal men's wages were cut July 1 by the board at the time it decided the pay of the shopmen, but the signal men did not join the July 1 walk-out. The strike vote was held September 20 when they were granted the following set for today.

The July 1 cut in the signal men's wages ranged from five to seven cents an hour. Forty-two railroads and their subsidiaries are parties to the hearing.

Small Notes Cost More To Print Than Value

BUDAPEST, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The fall of the crown caused a crisis in the printing of bank notes which are manufactured by a Swiss firm. Small notes now cost more to print than their face value. The government therefore is being severely censured by the people.

BRITISH PRESS SCORES PREMIER

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Enthusiasm for the Paris near eastern settlement is lacking in the press comment this morning. The tenor of most of the editorials being that it was the only way to avoid war and maintain agreement among the allies and therefore had to be adopted.

Most of the commentators sharply score the government and especially Prime Minister Lloyd George for mishandling the whole situation, with the result that Great Britain has suffered "a severe diplomatic setback after talking very big indeed."

Frost Forecast

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The first frost warning of the fall was sounded today by the weather bureau in its forecast this morning. The forecast said: Fair tonight and Tuesday; light frost in exposed places.

Though this is the first warning of frost given by the weather bureau, frosts already have been reported from various sections of the state.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Heavy frost in Mahoning county last night did some damage to gardens, County Farm Agent Lehman reported today.

CASHIER SHOT BY BANDIT LEADER

STUEBENVILLE, O., Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Cashier George H. Whitaker, of the First National Bank at Hopedale, Ohio, 15 miles from here, was shot through the neck and probably fatally injured by a member of a party of five armed men who attempted to rob the bank at ten o'clock this morning. No money was taken, the robbers being put to flight when Miss Jessie Snyder, assistant cashier, screamed and gave the alarm.

Mayor A. D. Finnegan, of Hopedale, was one of the first attracted by Miss Snyder's screams and immediately equipped four automobiles with men armed with rifles and pistols who started in pursuit of the bandits who rode in the direction of Smithfield which is in line with Stuebenville.

Sheriff Ed Lucas with three machines loaded with men and riot guns left here at 10:15 o'clock for Smithfield in an effort to head off the gun men.

Although Whitaker is unable to talk, other bank officials state no money was taken, the first of the robbers shooting Whitaker and then rushed back to the machine and his companions carried him off. The bullet passed through Whitaker's neck.

Three physicians attending him, say his condition is such that he cannot yet be taken to a hospital, there being none in the little town.

The bandit car was found along the road at Henry, three miles from Parlett, Ohio, shortly before noon today and Sheriff Lucas reported that his men were scouring the wooded section nearby believing they had the robbers cornered. Whitaker was brought to a hospital here at noon with four expressed that he could not live the trip out.

According to information given Mayor Finnegan no demand was made upon the cashier. Authorities are somewhat puzzled as to the purpose of the attack, some thinking the leader lost his nerve and shot point-blank, forgetting his object, while some think it may have been a plot upon the young cashier's life. Whitaker served overseas with Company B, 134th machine gun battalion of the 37th division.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Employment conditions improved materially in 30 out of 42 important industries of the country during the month of August, as compared with July, the department of labor announced today. "The largest increases in employment appeared in the stamper and fertilizer industries and printing newspapers," the reports said. Decreased employment occurred in those industries manufacturing tobacco products and men's clothing and in car building and repair shops.

Thirty-three of the 42 industries canvassed by government investigators, indicated increases in the total amount of their pay rolls for the month, while nine industries registered decreases.

The Greek government has accepted the offer.

Allied Terms For Near East Peace Parley Not Acceptable To Turks

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Hamid Bey, representative of the Ankara government in Constantinople, declared today the allied invitation to the peace conference could not be accepted by the Turkish nationalists on the terms laid down.

"We cannot accept the allied terms because they propose to demilitarize the sea of Marmora and part of Thrace, which would prevent us from bringing our troops from Asia to Europe," said Hamid in a statement to the correspondent. "Neither can we accept literally the condition that our army shall not advance while the peace conference is progressing. This would so circumscribe our movements that the enemy would have ample opportunity to prepare forces for a fresh attack and would give the allies a chance to complete their land and naval reinforcements in the event the conference failed."

"Regarding the straits we have already admitted freedom for the passage of all vessels through the Dardanelles, but we are not prepared to define in what authority or body the control shall be vested. That must be settled at conference between the Turks and the allies."

"We also insist that nations having commercial, military or other interests in the Dardanelles including Russia and Bulgaria shall participate in the conference."

We further insist that Great Britain shall suspend all naval and military movements in the straits during the course of the conference."

Money Parley To Be Called

BRUSSELS, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—An international conference to consider reparations, inter-allied debts and a loan to Germany will probably be called for early in December, it is learned. The Belgian government, while it has not yet been asked by the allies to issue invitations, regards the summoning of such a meeting as certain.

The December date was proposed so as to avoid the result of the Anglo-American negotiations for American debt funding to afford time in which to induce the United States to participate.

Murder Mystery Is Still Unsolved

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Investigators of the mysterious murder of the Rev. Edw. Wheeler Hall, rector of the Episcopal church of St. John the Evangelist and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, were puzzled today as much as ever. They feel certain that jealousy was the motive which prompted the double killing and they have evidence of dissonance within the church, but they have been unable to find the person or persons who fired the fatal shots.

Raymond Schneider, who with Pearl Bahner, found the bodies, was to be questioned for a second time today. Schneider and the girl were closeted with the investigators yesterday for some time. The girl was locked up at the request of her father, charged with incorrigibility. Schneider was released after the interview, but was told to return today.

JUDGE REMOVED BY GOVERNOR

TALLAHASSEE, FLA., Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Judge J. R. Johnson, of St. Lucie county, who recently ruled that state authorities could make no arrests in prohibition cases, unless the liquor involved had been determined by an analysis to be intoxicating, has been removed from office by Governor Hardee. The removal order, it was learned today, was signed Saturday after more than 1,500 county residents had signed a petition asking the removal of both the judge and County Prosecutor Carpenter, because of alleged laxity in law enforcement.

No action was taken concerning the latter official.

Judge Refuses To Modify Temporary Injunction's Scope

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The drastic temporary injunction order asked by Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty against shop crafts strike leaders was put in force today by Judge James H. Wilkerson without any of its effectiveness being modified.

Several slight changes in the wording of the order submitted Saturday were made by Judge Wilkerson to clarify its meaning.

Judge Wilkerson signed the order after Donald R. Ritchberg, defense attorney, said he was unable to suggest any form of order which would be effective to give legal sanction to the exercise of an authority "which we respectfully urge is not within the power of the court."

"To call this proceeding in its method and results 'due process of law' to justify the denial of constitutional right of the defendants by this judicial finding based on expert affidavits seem to me to disregard the fundamental principles of our system of laws, as well as to exercise a power specifically denied to the federal courts by an act of congress passed in order to prevent the very deprivation of liberty and property which is here accomplished," Ritchberg said.

Following the short plea by defense attorneys that the government petition for an injunction be denied, Judge Wilkerson denied their motion to dismiss, added the phrase "with intent to further said conspiracy" in several paragraphs, and signed the order.

The date of hearing for the defendants not heard in this action was set for 10 a. m. October 5.

Qualifying his statement with the assertion that a course of action has not been definitely determined Donald R. Ritchberg, counsel for the railway shop crafts, indicated today that the next step in the shopmen's fight against the Daugherty injunction would be a petition to the United States circuit court of appeals for a review of Judge Wilkerson's order.

Poulin Denies Clandestine Meetings

SOUTH BEND, IND., Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Harry Poulin, charged with being the father of Mrs. John P. Tiernan's third child, took the witness stand in his own defense today following Dr. A. E. Stonecipher on the stand. Dr. Stonecipher corroborated the testimony of Joseph Poulin, brother of the defendant, relative to aisting trip.

A denial by Poulin that he had held clandestine meetings with Mrs. Tiernan, brought Mrs. Tiernan to her feet, exclaiming:

"You are a liar."

"Sit down, you'll hear more than that," answered Poulin. It was with difficulty that the woman was restrained as Poulin continued his denials of clandestine meetings. Following the scene, Mrs. Poulin collapsed.

To add to the excitement, Mrs. Madrick Donahue, a half sister of Mrs. Harry Poulin, fainted. Professor John P. Tiernan, husband of the woman who accuses Poulin of ruining her life, sat throughout the session with bowed head, except when restraining his wife from interrupting the testimony.

C. & O. Shopmen Refuse To Return To Work

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—All but fifteen Chesapeake and Ohio shopmen ignored an order to report for work here this forenoon. The strikers decided to hold a mass meeting today to discuss the terms of the Richmond settlement.

Leaders of the striking shopmen pointed out that they had promised local C. & O. clerks also on strike, that they would not agree to a separate settlement. The clerks also will hold a mass meeting. If both groups decide to return to work, a general meeting will be held late today or tonight, it was announced.

Plan For Big Sunday School Rally

The Sunday school superintendents of the city had a meeting at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon and planned to have a general Rally Day of all the Sunday schools in the city, New Boston and Wheelersburg on Sunday, October 15. There was a good attendance of superintendents present and every one of them was interested in having the best Fall Rally Day possible. Each Sunday school is asked to make its own plans for getting out its full enrollment as well as new members. It is hoped that much personal work will be done. If possible each church should visit its entire membership as well as that of the Sunday school. The goal set for each school is its attendance for Mothers' Day, last May. The time is short and every one should go to work at once. The total attendance Mothers' Day, May 14, was 10,071, which is the goal set for this general rally day.

Bone In Pitcher Lucas' Arm Broken

Friends of Pitcher Jesse Lucas, who was recently sold to the New York Giants by the Portsmouth, Va. team, will regret to learn that he met with a serious accident while pitching for Zanesville against Massillon, Sunday.

In the third inning of the game, Lucas was throwing a curve ball broke the bone of his pitching arm between the elbow and his shoulder. After the bone snapped Lucas fell to the ground writhing in pain and was assisted off the field. Later an X-ray showed that the break was a square one about four inches above the elbow.

That the fans appreciate what Lucas was doing for their club is shown by the fact that the handsome sum of $250 was raised and presented to him after they learned that he had broken his arm. The Giants paid $15,000 for Lucas and the injury he suffered yesterday may prevent him from pitching another game.

Massillon had only made one hit off Lucas when he was injured. Massillon won the game off his successor.

PRESENT PIANO TO HOME

Over fifty members of Peerless Camp, Spanish War Veterans and their Auxiliary were at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home at Xenia Sunday when a piano was presented to the Home by Peerless Camp of Veterans. In addition to the present from the Camp the Auxiliary of this city gave to the Home a check for $50 which is to be used to start two girls in a musical education. The Auxiliary will adopt the two girls and pay for their education in music. The $50 is a start in this work.

The presentation exercises were held Sunday noon in the large dining hall in the Administration Building. The young people were all seated at their places when Past Commander Harry W. Mathiot of the local Camp introduced Past State Commander John DeCamp of Hamilton, who made the presentation remarks. Mrs. DeCamp was also present as were also State Commander A. D. Alcorn and wife of Cincinnati.

The piano and check were accepted by Colonel Bell in charge of the boys' band of the Home. The boys' band played here in June during the State Encampment of the Spanish War Veterans. The gift of the piano is a token of appreciation of their efforts.

The local persons arrived at the Home Saturday night and were entertained at the campus picture show. After chapel Sunday morning the various buildings were thrown open for inspection. In the afternoon the boys staged a dress parade that won them many compliments. The local men and women were regally entertained and have nothing but words of praise for Colonel Garver and wife who are in charge of the Home.

Miss Nan Spencer of Portsmouth is secretary at the Home and she met a number of her friends in the local party.

To Confer With Golf Architect

John F. Wilhelm, Marvin C. Clark and Fred Manning of the Portsmouth Golf Club left Monday afternoon for Columbus, where they will confer with Donald Ross, a famous golf architect. He will be consulted about the beautiful new course the Golf Club will soon establish on the West Side. The committee no doubt will have an interesting report to make after conferring with so high a golf authority as Mr. Ross, who just happens to be in the Capital City at this time.

The conference will be held at the Chittenden Hotel there tonight.

Town Boys Tame; Police Docket Light

Judge McCull's Municipal court docket Monday was rather "light" and as a consequence the regular session of police court this afternoon was brief.

Charles Roberts, 1151 Twelfth street, was fined $5 and costs for intoxication when he admitted striking his stepdaughter, Sylvia Downs, 17, the other night because she went to the aid of her mother when Roberts was fighting her. Roberts explained that he was under the influence of liquor at the time and on his promise to refrain from further trouble the assault complaint was not pressed.

The quartet who gave the names of Glen Davis, John Barker, Evelyn Whinters and Marie Johnson, arrested at the Auditorium late Saturday night for disorderly conduct, forfeited their bonds by failing to appear for trial. For disorderly conduct, Richard Bostick, Front and Waller street, was assessed the costs. The complaint against Bostick filed by J. Whistman 1202 Front street, grew out of an altercation between the men over the throwing of some water from an upstairs window which splashed on Bostick.

Evelyn Whistman and Mona Cassidy charged with statutory offenses were confined for one week and the defendants were released upon their own recognizance.

Thousands Visit Relic Room

That the relic room of the Pageant is a place of much interest is shown by the attendance figures for Saturday only. The total number of persons visiting the place Saturday was 3616. Up until five o'clock Saturday nearly 1200 had visited the relic room and from 5 until 9 in the evening when the place was closed with more wanting to get in more than 2400 had viewed the exhibits. During the three days the room has been open over 4500 people have visited it.

continental trip devoted to speech making and political conferences. "Whether the Republicans can counteract the present movement, remains to be seen," said Senator Walsh. "They may to some extent,

Huntington Golfers Win Tournament

Relative to the Tri State Golf Tournament staged in Huntington Saturday which was won by golfers of that city, the Huntington Herald-
Examiner Sunday said:

Victory perched on the banner of the booster golfers in the great tri-state tournament staged yesterday on the beautiful Guyana Country club course. There was quite a ripple of pleasure among the golf folks when the glad news was flashed from the Huntington entry had won over their friendly rivals carrying the colors of Ashland and Portsmouth in the blue ribbon event of the 1922 season. The victory of the locals gives them permanent ownership of the large silver trophy which will now decorate a prominent place in the reception room of the Guyana club. Forty-two players took part in the tourney.

How They Finished

Huntington 61 1/2 points.
Ashland 41 points.
Portsmouth 32 1/2 points.

The sensational "shootout" of Frost and J. H. Hawkins in the outstanding feature of the day. The older members of the Huntington team played some brilliant golf in strokes, but it was the "Big Five" that rose to the occasion just in the nick of time to cop the second "leg" on the silver cup—and the championship.
Frost, Parker, Murray and Swan turned in clean cards of 6 points each while J. H. Hawkins collected 5 1/2 markers for his part in the win.

Ashland, who were runners-up in yesterday's play, were also holding one "leg" on the trophy. A victory for the Saturday would have meant that the cup would now be en route to the Bluegrass city. Ashland put up a stubborn fight and were never out of the running until the last hole had been played. Stewart, with 6 points;
Elam, with 5 1/2 and Tommy Wall, a former Huntington High school youth, with 5, were the athletes that carried the "hot" for the Kentuckians.

Bannon, Altman and Harris were Portsmouth's best bets, but it takes more than three men to win a golf title, especially when stacked up against the very cream of the link stars of the tri-state sector. Bannon was high gunner for the Flood Wall delegation with 5 1/2 points; Altman unmated 5 and William Harris kicked in with 3 1/2.

It was No. 17, one of the finest greens of them all, that the players humped into the most trouble. It is a very simple green to play if you drive the ball straight away, but if the gutta perch happens to skid to the right or the left the player is going to find himself in a decided "jam." Hole 17 was an 18-yard score-breaker to the Ashland and Portsmouth entries. It didn't help the scores of the Huntington players to any noticeable extent.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The reformed crackman, MICHAEL LANYARD, known to the police as the LONE WOLF, is attempting to recover the stolen jewels of EVE DE MONTAIGNE, the woman he loves.

Lanyard, who met Eve in southern France, where he rescued her from robbery at the hands of the brutal Parisian Apache, DUPONT, believes that the jewels were stolen by a motoring party consisting of the American, WHITAKER MONK, his secretary, PHINUIT, the latter's brother, JULES, and the "COUNTESS DE

COUNT AND 'COUNTESS DE LORNGES.

De Lorges is murdered by Dupont. Later in Paris, Lanyard finds the countess, learns that her real name is LIANE DELORME, and enters her house to discover the jewels. He finds her being throttled to death by Dupont.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVI

The Champagne Commandment

THE next morning Lanyard lay luxuriously bedded and with a single problem to nurse:

What had her pillow advised Liane Delorme?

Liane was amply able to surprise him, and did.

It was without ceremony that she walked in on him at length.

"Well, my dear friend," she said gravely, "hitting by the bedside, 'do you feel able to travel?'"

"Travel?" Lanyard made a face of dismay. "Are you then in such haste to be rid of me, Liane?"

"Not at all."

Liane found herself a chair and accepted a cigarette.

"And where do we go, mademoiselle?"

"To Cherbourg, there to take a steamer for New York."

Fortunately it was Lanyard's cue to register shock.

"But, my dear friend, why America?"

"You gave me credit for having some little influence in this world of Paris. I have used it. What I have learned enables me to assure you that the Montalais jewels are on their way to America."

"But if I am to sail for America today?"

"Tomorrow, from Cherbourg, at eight in the morning."

"How am I to get my passport visé?"

"I have seen to that. You are no longer Paul Martin alias Andre Duchemin, but Paul Delorme, my invalid brother, still suffering from honorable wounds sustained in the Great War."

Liane Delorme threw away her cigarette and rose. "You understand, we leave as soon as you are dressed?"

"Perfectly. By what train?"

"By no train. We motor to Cherbourg."

She was at the door when Lanyard stared her with, "One moment, Liane! What about Dupont?"

Simple mention of the man was enough to make the woman wince and lose color.

"Well, what of him?"

"Have you reflected that, since Dupont got in after you came home, his accomplice in your household is most probably one of those who were up at that hour. Who were they?"

"Only two. The footman, Leon and Marthe, my maid."

Lanyard said, "Open that door!" in a tone sharp with such authority that Liane Delorme instinctively obeyed. The woman whom Lanyard had seen that morning coming down the stairs with the lighted candle entered rather precipitately.

"Pardon, madame," she murmured, and paused. "I was about to knock."

Marthe hinted at rather than executed a courtesy, and withdrew. Liane shut the door behind her, and reapproached the bed, trembling with anger.

"You mean to take her with you?"

"I did, until this happened."

"And now will you tell me that Dupont knows nothing of your intention to motor to Cherbourg to day?"

"No, madame. Disconsolate, Liane sank down into the chair. "Now I dare not go. What am I to do?"

"I must go. What am I to do?"

"Courage, little sister! It is I who have an idea. Liane lifted a gaze of mute inquiry.

"What automobile are you using for our trip this afternoon?"

"My limousine for you and me."

"And Marthe; how is she to make the journey?"

"In the touring car, which follows us with our luggage."

"Who drives the limousine?"

The woman hesitated, looked aside, bit her lip.

"As a matter of fact, monsieur," she said hastily, "it is the boy who drove us through the Cevennes. Monsieur Monk asked me to keep him pending his return to France."

Lanyard had the grace to keep a straight face. He nodded gravely.

"You make it all perfectly clear, little sister."

"Here is the plan. At the last moment you will decide to take Leon with you."

"To-morrow evening we will let the touring car catch up. We will exchange cars with Marthe and Leon, leaving the latter to bring on the limousine while Jules drives for us. Whatever happens then, we may feel sure the touring car will get off lightly."

It was four o'clock when the expedition for Cherbourg left the door of Liane's townhouse. The limousine was leading the way, at its wheel, the touring car trailing, with the footman, Leon, as driver.

In St. Germain-Laye Lanyard first noticed the gray touring car. It stood inconspicuously round the corner, at the door of wine shop; the fat-faced man of Lyons was lounging in the door, sucking at a cigarette and watching the traffic.

Lanyard said nothing at the time but later, when a long stretch of straight road gave him the chance to verify his suspicions by looking back to see the gray car lurking in less than a mile and a half astern; the Delorme touring car driven by Leon keeping a quarter of a mile in the rear of the limousine.

These relative positions remained approximately unchanged during most of the light hours of that long evening, despite the terrific pace which Jules set in the open country.

At about seven they dived from the hamper which, with Liane's jewel case in its leather disguise, constituted all the limousine's load of luggage. Lanyard passed sandwiches through the front window to Jules, who punched them while driving like a speed maniac, and with the same appalling nonchalance washed them down with a tumbler of champagne.

A luminous blue twilight vied with the street lamps of Caen when the limousine rolled through the city. Lanyard conferred with Jules through the window.

"Beyond the town," he said, "you will stop. I think it would be ad-visible to have a little engine trouble."

"Very good, sir," said Jules without looking round. Then added in a voice of complete respect: "Quite so, sir. What's the idea?"

"I presume you set some value on your skin?"

"Plumb crazy about it."

"Mademoiselle Delorme and I are afflicted with the same idiosyncrasy. We want to save our lives, and we don't mind saving yours at the same time. In a gray car which has been following us ever since we left St. Germain, is the man who—I believe—murdered Monsieur le Comte de Lorges on the Lyons express, and who—I know—tried last night to murder Mademoiselle Delorme."

"And I suppose that, in his big-hearted, wholesaler's way, he wouldn't mind making a bag of the lot of us tonight?"

"I'm afraid you are right. Our plan is to change cars with Leon and Marthe; the gray car will pass and go on ahead before we make the shift; then you, mademoiselle and I follow in the touring car, the others in the limousine."

"Ah-h!" Jules used the tone of one who perceives enlightenment as a blinding flash. "Marthe and Leon are in on the dirty work, too, eh? I shan't shed a solitary tear if something sad happens to them in this 'bus tonight."

The plan was carried out in a suburb of Caen; the gray touring car tore by in a cloud of dust as Lanyard and Liane shifted to the touring car with Jules as driver. Lanyard established himself in the limousine.

"Switch off your lights," he said—"all of them. Then find a place where we can turn off and wait till Leon and Marthe pass us."

Jules picked out the mouth of a narrow lane, stopped, and bucked into it.

In four minutes by Lanyard's watch, a blue-white glare leapt quivering past the head, and lay horizontal with the road as the car bore past.

"Shoot, Jules—follow his rear lamp," cried Lanyard.

The car swung out into the main highway. Far ahead the red, sardonic eye of the rear of the limousine leered as if mocking their hopes of keeping it in sight.

They were swooping down a long, grade with a sharp turn at the bottom, when somewhere on ahead, there sounded a grinding crash, the noise of a stout fabric rent, and crushed with the crash and clatter of shattered glass.

"Easy," Lanyard cautioned—"and ready with the lights."

Below, at the foot of the hill, the headlights of another car, standing at some distance and to the right of the road, furnished lurid illumination to the theater of disaster.

Something, its nature just then mysterious, had apparently caused Leon to lose control of the heavy car, so that it had skidded into a ditch and capsized. Four men were swarming round the wreck. Two were helping the driver out, two others having their gallantry in performing like service for the maid re-warded by a torrent of vituperative denunciation, half hysterical and wholly infuriated.

By the freedom of her gestures, which was rivaled only by that of her language, the disheveled, storming figure of Marthe was manifestly uninjured. And in another moment Leon found his feet and limped toward the others.

Lanyard drew attention to a dark serpentine line that lay like a dead snake upon the lighted surface of the road. Liane Delorme breathlessly demanded: "What is it?"

"An old trick," Lanyard explained. "A wire cable stretched across the road, about as high as the middle of the windshield."

He fumbled the pistol which Jules had handed him: "Now before they wake up, Jules—give her all she's got!"

Jules released the brakes. They were making forty miles an hour when they struck the level and thundered past the group.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE
WHITE is the bride's color in most parts of the country. But in Tunis the bride never wears white as it is regarded as the color of death. Likewise, the bride avoids white flowers.

It is considered bad form on the part of any of the guests to come garbed in white, as this also is considered unlucky for the bride.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Belle Eden and Mr. Harold Clauson of this city, which was quietly solemnized on Saturday, September 23rd, at the home of Rev. Gerald Culbertson, pastor of the First Christian church. The young bride was attired in a handsome new fall suit of navy blue, with hat and other accessories to correspond. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Clauson left for the bride's home at Soldier, Ky. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Eden of Soldier, Ky., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Clauson of 2005 Sixth street, and is an employee of the Vulcan Last Company. The young couple will make their home in this city.

Mr. Earl W. Rardin and daughter, Marcela, returned to their home in Columbus today after a week-end visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rardin of Waller street. Mrs. Rardin will spend the week here with relatives and friends.

Miss Martha Kelley of Springfield, Ohio, is expected tomorrow for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George W. Breece of 1325 Hutchins street.

The meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of Manly church, scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Scott Winters, 1220 Ninth street, Tuesday afternoon, has been postponed until Friday.

Members will please note the change in the time of the meeting.

Miss Georgia Roberts of Third street has returned from an extended visit in Detroit, Mich., and Windsor, Canada. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Fred Edgington of Detroit, Mich.

Miss Edythe Roberts of Third street has returned home from Mt. Vernon, where she has been for her health.

Fourteen children were in attendance at the meeting of the Manly King's Herald and Home Guards held Saturday afternoon at the church. New mite boxes and stamp books for the year were given out by the leader, Mrs. Wm. F. Brierley. Refreshments of fruit were served by Avamel and Frank Brierley, after the usual program. The day's subjects were "India" and "The Negro in America."

Banns announcing the coming marriage of Miss Anna E. Coll and Mr. William Schaffer were announced in Holy Redeemer church Sunday by Rev. J. E. McGuirk. The wedding will take place in Holy Redeemer church at seven o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, October 11th. The attendants will be Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Coll, brother and sister-in-law of the bride-elect.

Miss Coll is the charming daughter of Mrs. Anna Coll of 1707 Eighth street, and until last Saturday held a responsible position with the Excelsior Shoe Company.

Mr. Schaffer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Schaffer of Carnegie, Pennsylvania. He has been employed in this city for the past few months as an expert painter and grainer.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS HARTON

Nancy and Nick were having the finest ride ever. It was better than riding on a merry-go-round and getting the brass ring.

They were in the Fairy Queen's magic automobile, rolling along the nice, smooth, white Milky Way up in the sky. And let me tell you, my dears, the Milky Way is the very nicest place to ride you can imagine.

It is made of star-dust mixed with cloud vapor and then rolled flat and smooth by the Moon.

Of course, some folks say it's made up of stars, great big ones, but it certainly doesn't look it.

But anyway, that's where Nancy and Nick were riding.

Some wonderful things grow alongside of the Milky Way. There's the Dreamland Tree, and a Christmas Tree, and a Wishing Tree, and a Popcorn Tree, and a Peanut Tree, and a Balloon Tree, and a lot of others.

No wonder Nancy and Nick were happy.

"We'll soon have to go down out of the sky," sighed Nancy. "The Fairy Queen will be wanting her automobile and she'll think we are never coming."

Little did Nancy suspect, and little did Nick dream, that a pair of eyes were watching them, belonging to a bad little fairy called Light Fingers.

Yes, sir! Light Fingers was hiding behind a queer little board house and peeping out at them. He had a pocketful of sharp tacks and he was going to sprinkle them on the road before the Twins got there.

He hummed to himself: "Tum dum, te tum dum, te tum dum. There never was any one smarter than me."

Oh, tum dum, te tum dum, te tum dum.

"Her, hee, hee! Here goes! Now for some fun!" And he reached for the tacks.

Out in Society

The swan song of the bathers is being sung during these fleeting warm September days. Those who through the summer have become water devotees—who have virtually lived in the rivers and creeks clothed by, regrettably see the inundating in the water spelling cooler weather. Many took advantage of the ideal summer weather yesterday to take their final plunge until the "good old summer time" beckons them thither. Others took advantage of the wonderful day to enjoy a spin through the country, or a romp over the hills and through the valleys.

Those who remained in the city journeyed to York Park and spent a very pleasant afternoon listening to the delightful band concert while "trying out" the Pageant seats and taking in the wonderful scenic beauty of the Ohio river and Kentucky hills.

Mrs. George W. Breece opened this week's social festivities with a charming bridge party this afternoon at her attractive home, 1325 Hutchins street. On this occasion she named as honor guest Miss Gillie Ann Riley of Porto Rico, who is visiting at the home of Miss Alice Vincent.

The lower floor in the Breece home was handsomely decorated for the occasion, wicker baskets and vases of dahlias being arranged at intervals in the rooms where the guests were received for their play. Three tables took hands for bridge and several pleasant hours spent at this delightful pastime.

Handsome trophies were awarded for high and low scores, and at five o'clock an elegant ice and salad course was served at the small tables. The afternoon was characterized by informality and thoroughly enjoyed by the Misses Gillie Ann Riley, Alice Vincent, Helen Hinkleman, Lena Appel and Virginia Alger of Hyde Park, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Joseph B. Proebles, Mrs. Raymond C. Wiltsie, Mrs. Paul Williams, Mrs. Eric Ferguson, Mrs. J. Leigh Watkins, Jr., Mrs. Loren Hillebeck, Mrs. James Breece, Mrs. Frank E. Adams and Mrs. David C. Williams (Rosemary Miller).

Every wedding, says the proverb, makes another, soon or late; Never yet was any marriage Entered in the book of Fate. But the names were also written Of the patient pair that wait.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meyers spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers of Coal Grove.

Mrs. V. O. Stone of Ironton was the week-end guest of relatives in this city.

Mr. E. F. Robinson of 1114 Kinney's Lane, and son Ralph and daughter Nola have returned from a week-end visit with Mr. Robinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robinson, of Winchester, Ohio.

PAGEANT WILL START PROMPTLY AT 2 P. M. TUESDAY

Demand For Tickets Is Very Gratifying; Parking Rules Fixed By Chief

Two o'clock sharp is the time set for the grand opening of the Portsmouth Pageant of Progress Tuesday afternoon. It will begin at the same hour Wednesday and Thursday. All persons holding admission tickets are urged to come early so as to be in their seats before the time for the pageant to start. It will take some time to show several thousand people to their seats and to avoid a two o'clock rush which would cause considerable confusion, it will be best for all to come early.

This morning at the ticket sales room at the Chamber of Commerce it was announced that more than 5000 tickets had been sold for the three days. The largest sale is for Tuesday, the opening day which is to be known as Merchants' Day when many places of business will be closed. Although the sale for tomorrow is heavy there are a number of good seats left which may be had for $1 and 50 cents and boxes which sell for $10. Every seat affords a fine view of the stage.

Tickets will be on sale at the Chamber of Commerce rooms until Tuesday noon, twelve o'clock. Then the tickets will be for sale at the Pageant grounds. There will be several ticket booths at the grounds.

Chief of Police Distel this morning announced parking rules and regulations for the three days of the Pageant. He will have a big force of special police and watchmen on the grounds to see that the special rules and regulations are obeyed to the letter.

Wire and ropes are to be stretched from Court street to Chillicothe and south on Chillicothe to the entrance to the park. Watchmen will be stationed along this wire to see that no one comes underneath the wire in an attempt to slip into the Pageant grounds. There are two entrances to the Pageant grounds, at the foot of Washington and Court streets and these entrances only will be used. The entrance to the park at the south end of Chillicothe street will be for those taking part in the Pageant.

Chief Distel let it be known today that any persons, small boys included, who attempt to gain entrance to the park by crawling underneath the wire or rope will not be questioned there but will be taken direct to the police station where he or she will be allowed to explain their actions. The officials are cooperating in every way with the Pageant committee and they are going to do their best to see that every rule and regulation is obeyed to the letter.

The parking rules that will be enforced the three days of the Pageant are as follows:

Parking Allowed
On Front street west of Court; on Second street, east of Chillicothe; on Third, Fourth and Fifth streets; on Washington and Court streets north of Second.

Parking Not Allowed
On Front street to Chillicothe; on Second street west of Chillicothe; on Court, Washington or Chillicothe, south of Second.

Greece Determined To Hold Thrace

ATHENS, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Spurred to greater effort by the popular clamor for its resignation, the cabinet of Premier Triantafyllakos is developing unexpected cohesion in strength.

It has added new members to the ministry, chosen with the view to bring it popular support; has appointed General Papoulas, governor general of Thrace and has designated three popular generals to proceed to Thrace and push the work of reorganizing the army there.

Meanwhile a note from the allied powers disclosing their communication to Mustafa Kemal Pasha according to his conditions for peace has reached the foreign office and has had the effect on the Greek people of an undesired shower bath. The powers in their communication merely informed the Greek government of their action. Greece is not looking for more trouble, said one official today, but she intends to go right on with the task of building up her army in Thrace.

In Thrace Greece is and in Thrace Greece will remain, is the watchword of the Greek people.

"It Is Safe To Buy At Baldwin's"

Within the past few months

We have noticed a growing tendency on the part of different piano dealers to imitate as closely as possible in the wording of their advertisements, such phrases as "It Is Safe To Buy At Baldwin's", etc.

While we realize that imitation is the sincerest sort of flattery and feel highly complimented from the fact that different dealers have in the past boldly purloined these slogans, yet we feel that the public should take cognizance of the fact that it is an open admission of these dealers that Baldwin's is Portsmouth's leading piano house.

These time honored phrases originated with the house of Baldwin and are as much the property of the house of Baldwin as the Baldwin pianos themselves. While it is wholly possible for these concerns to imitate the Baldwin advertisements, the fact remains that it is an impossibility for them to imitate the products of the House of Baldwin.

Baldwin Pianos and Player Pianos stand without a peer in the world. They are internationally known, having been awarded every grand prize wherever exhibited or in competition with the world's leading makes. That the music loving people of Portsmouth and vicinity appreciate this is indicated by the fact that there are more Baldwin made pianos and player pianos in use today in the homes of Portsmouth than any other known make of piano.

In conclusion let us state that the House of Baldwin offers more in quality for less in price than any other piano house in the world.

CHILLICOTHE TO HAVE AUTO SHOW

The Chillicothe News-Advertiser says:

"Four big days.
October 4, 5, 6, 7, Chillicothe automobile dealers will stage an auto show in this city, and they ask for the co-operation of all merchants. The show will be staged in the big tent on Paint street, between Fourth and Fifth, and in order to accommodate the dealers desiring space, the present canopy will have to be increased."

Walter S. Barrett, who originated the movement, had disposed of 300 feet of space to auto dealers up to noon Saturday and all of them had not been seen. All the dealers seen were enthusiastic about the idea and agreed to do all in their power to make it a big success.

Shop Windows Diked Out In New Dress

The shop windows about town are taking on their autumnal hues. Window artists in many places have created some truly wonderful and charming displays. It is at dusk that the windows are most entrancing, when tinted bulbs shed a soft and fairy-like effulgence upon the scenic efforts of some of the more painstaking decorators.

SEPTEMBER 26th to 30th

Perplexed is the woman in these early days of the season when modes are being established. That she may know the correct silhouette—the favored fabrics and shades is the motive behind this style exposition.

She may view them in full confidence; and choose as she may, no error of judgment can be made, for the clever lines of every garment on display are as correct, as correct can be—authoritatively and distinctively in the mode.

Every department throughout the store has been working in earnest to display before your eyes the various lines of merchandise for your personal self as well as for your home.

Such as new draperies, curtains, rugs, cooking utensils, washing machines, glassware, dinnerware, aluminum ware, tin ware, etc., that help dress up the home.

New silks, woolens, ginghams, hosiery, footwear, gloves, jewelry, umbrellas, neckwear, lingerie, millinery, infants' wear, table linens and many other lines will be on display for your approval this entire week.

Your attendance is invited and please feel that you are not obligated to purchase. Merely come in and acquaint yourself with what's new.

BREAKS JAIL; IS RECAPTURED

Kearns Submits Figures

A special from Washington says: The fact that the expert has only surveyed four of the 22 Ohio districts is a refutation of the rumor which has been in circulation to the effect that a list of Ohio districts which are to be denied contributions from the Republican congressional committee already has been made up. According to the rumor this alleged proscribed list is composed of districts that are regarded as "hopelessly Democratic" this year.

The sixth district is supposed to have a place on this list, the alleged reason being that Representative Charles C. Kearns ran so far behind "two years ago that there is no chance of his election this year in a district that is normally Democratic, anyway.

Representative Kearns has recently heard so many reports to the effect that he is to be proscribed by the congressional committee because he is a poor runner that he has caused an investigation to be made of the official vote in his district in 1920. He finds that he carried the district by 7141 votes, while Harding carried it by 6464, Frank B. Willis by 5813 and Harry L. Davis by 906. In other words, Kearns ran 677 votes ahead of Harding, 1323 ahead of Willis and 6235 ahead of Davis. In the light of these official figures Kearns' friends insist that it would be extremely unfair to cast him into outer darkness without benefit of clergy.

Alkali In Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Multisilf coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Multisilf at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisilf in a cup or glass with a little warm water is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisilf.—Advertisement.

Secret Of A Good Disposition
A woman who carefully safeguards her health, benefits her disposition. She will be happy and attractive to all. The world unfortunately is filled with sweet women who are unhappy because they are held back from usefulness by troubles so common among them. Fruitfulness and nervousness rapidly destroy good dispositions. Sickly, all-worn-out women cannot make happy homes.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safeguard of women's health. This is clearly proven by the many letters we are continually publishing in this paper, from women who have been restored to health and happiness by its use after years of suffering. Why don't you try it? —Advertisement.

A. A. Averages

Going stronger than ever, Glenn Myatt, star catcher with Milwaukee, today has a pinpoint lead over his rivals in the race for the batting championship of the American Association. As the season draws to a close, Myatt apparently is in no danger of being displaced, as he continues to strengthen his position, instead of losing ground.

In his last six games, Myatt connected with nine hits, which boosted his average to .373, compared with .307 a week ago. Becker of Kansas City, the runner-up, is batting .364, which was his average last week. Kirke of Louisville, third in the list, shot his average up to .362, an advance of three points.

Bunny Brief of Kansas City, with thirty-seven homers in his old kit bag, is assured of these honors. Becker, a teammate, is second in home run hitting with twenty-five.

The base stealers, however, are still neck and neck, with Baird of Indianapolis having the edge with twenty-seven. Lamar of Toledo and Bergerhammer of St. Paul are close up with twenty-four.

Other leading batters for ninety-five or more games: Lear, Milwaukee, .354; Magee, Minneapolis, .353; Good, Kansas City, .352; Lamar, Toledo, .352; Brown, Indianapolis, .350; Brief, Kansas City, .342; Combs, Louisville, .341; Althaus, Milwaukee, .338; Hendryx, St. Paul, .338.

Billy Evans Says

Recently there was staged at Boston a game between old-time stars of the American and National Leagues. It was my good fortune to be in Boston at the time these players were congregating for the big game. For three or four days I picked the bag, which, in baseball, means "to swap stories," with Cy Young, Kid Nichols, Bill Bradley, Tommy Tucker, Jimmy Collins, Bobby Lowe and two score other old-timers.

The one thing that the old-timers wanted to talk about most, was the home-run mania which is now prevalent in baseball. None of them could quite understand the free hitting that now features the game.

The pitchers of the old school, like Young and Nichols, were anxious to get my opinion as to this free hitting.

Naturally, I made a hit with them when I told them that possibly the pitching isn't as good as it was in their days. You know, the old-time pitchers are very sensitive about the records they hung up.

However, I did say that I believed much of the home-run hitting was not due to any greater ability on the part of the batsman or less effectiveness on that of the pitchers, but to the lively ball.

The lively ball was of great interest to the old-timers. Jimmy Collins said he was seriously thinking of using a protector and mask at third, if all the reports he had on the ball were true.

The old-timers, to a man, do not think that the orgy of hitting that has enveloped the game is a good thing for the sport. Most of them are of the opinion that the lively ball has taken the premium off home-run hitting. Instead of being the unusual, the making of home-runs has become very ordinary.

The 3rd boys also expressed the belief that free hitting tends to eliminate much of the strategy of the game.

Gilbert Nine Beats Beaver

The Gilbert nine won a 5 to 4 game from Beaver Sunday afternoon at Beaver. The pitching of Greene for the locals featured.

In the first seven innings only 22 men faced Greene. In the eighth Beaver scored four runs. Greene started the Beaver scoring by fumbling a roller. Two other errors were followed by three solid hits which netted four runs. Gilbert's scored their 5 runs in the first six innings. Weber caught for Gilberts, Doherty at short got a home run. Cook, second baseman for Gilberts, knocked out a home run, but fell down several feet from the plate and was tagged out. The umpire was one of the fairest yet this year by Gilberts. Neither side registered a single complaint.

Waverly Blanks Lucasville
Lucasville's baseball nine journeyed to Waverly Sunday and were defeated in a closely contested game 3 to 0. The game was a pitcher's battle with Kuhn of Lucasville having the best of the argument. Lefty Townsend of this county was in the box for Waverly and was hit hard, outright fielding on top part of Waverly saving him several times. Lucasville wishes to announce that it is ready to meet Waverly again on either diamond before the season closes. Lucasville plays McDermott at home next Sunday. The box score of yesterday's game:

SMOKE HOUSE JUNIORS OPEN THE FOOTBALL SEASON BY BEATING ASHLAND ELEVEN, 18 TO 0

Local Gridders
Showed Up Well

With a big crowd on hand the Smoke House Juniors opened the season at the Industrial League lot Sunday afternoon by handing the prospect eleven of Ashland an 18 to 0 defeat. The game played on a dusty field was enjoyed by those fans who were allowed to crowd the players while those in the bleachers were satisfied with a glimpse of play now and then.

In the first half Portsmouth scored one touchdown, due to a misplay on the part of Ashland. With the ball on their own goal line and the quarterback standing about 8 feet back of the goal, the center tossed the ball wide and Cropper got through the line and fell on it for six points.

This score came in the second quarter. Ashland threatened the local's goal in the first few seconds by putting to Schreck, who fumbled and allowed Ashland to recover about a foot from the local's goal. Four line backs failed, the locals holding like a stone wall.

In the first half, the locals completed a nice pass, Schreck to Hornum. Halfbacks, Weidner and Gould and fullback Woods made some nice runs and line backs. Weidner was a star at tackling. He played on the high school team several seasons ago and his experience there is a big help to him. He broke through the defense a number of times and brought down the man carrying the ball.

No scoring was forthcoming in the third quarter, but in the last quarter the locals put across two touchdowns. With the ball on Ashland's 22 yard line, halfback Reinert given the ball on a criss-cross play worked his way through the lines and across the goal. A few minutes later Captain Cleveland got through easily from the 15 yard line. Drop kicks were tried both times after the touchdowns, but both failed to cross the bar by a few feet. Cleveland and Reinert worked at halfback the last half of the game.

The entire local team played a fine game. Cropper at tackle got through repeatedly and caught the ball carrier back of the line and also recovered several fumbles made by Ashland.

The visitors did not appear to have a well drilled team, lack of practice showing plainly. The Juniors will make a fine appearance in their new uniforms, which are due to arrive in a few days.

The Juniors took the field, with Schreck at quarter, Woods, fullback, Gould and Weidner, halves, Smith, center, Lavender and Helser, guards, Cropper and Reinert, tackles and Hornum and Hallett, ends.

CARPENTIER KNOCKED OUT

PARIS, Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—George Carpentier, idol of French fight fans, has at last been toppled from his pedestal and today a new king reigns in the European heavy-weight division.

Battling Sikki, a Senegalese hampered the great Georges around the ring in the new Buffalo Veleodrom last night before a howling mob of spectators and sent him down in the sixth round to stay. The bout was to have gone twenty rounds.

Besides the loss of his prestige and his title, Carpentier today was suffering from the hurts of a badly battered body. One of his eyes was closed during the fight, his nose was broken and he was otherwise beaten up. An effort was made to save his title for him at the time of the knock-out by a ruling from the referee that Sikki had tripped him, and thus disqualified himself, but the great crowd would not have it and with violent demonstration a reversal of the decision was demanded and finally secured—an hour after the fight had ended—following a consultation of the fight judges.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—Sikki went into the ring an apparently timid man, but he gained confidence as the minutes fled and he finished strong and unhurt. Georges' blows seemingly could not make any impression. Time after time the famous Carpentier's right crashed to Sikki's jaw, but he shook it off and sometimes even laughed at it.

The result coming so swiftly was totally unexpected.

It had been generally thought the champion would play with the Senegalese and Carpentier smiled indulgently as he went to meet his man. As the bout progressed and Sikki found he could take Carpentier's blows as he had taken those of any other fighter, Georges' smile faded. Sikki became confident and in the third round took the offensive.

From then on the result was never in doubt as Carpentier at the end was helpless. He apparently tried several times to foul the Senegalese to avoid a knock out.

Open Season With Chillicothe

JACKSON, O., Sept. 25.—The Bears are working hard to get in shape for the first game to be played at home October 1st with Chillicothe. They will have complete new equipment which has been ordered through Levin Bros. Hardware Company.

Capt. McClain will have about 25 men from whom to pick a team, which means he will have two complete teams to go in action if necessary.

Every Tuesday and Thursday evenings are spent in hard scrimmages with the High School team, which should put both teams in fine condition.

TANK-SMOKE HOUSE DATES NOT FIXED

IRONSTON, Sept. 25.—Details have not been completed for the games to be played between Huntington and Portsmouth and the old Tanks. The Huntington date has been definitely decided upon, and it is expected to be one of the biggest athletic events in the Ohio Valley at that time. Portsmouth is to be played at Portsmouth on October 22nd, the Sunday following the Huntington struggle, and the Flood Valley city will be so full of folks for the game that it will look like the Pageant crowd in mass formation.

MUST KEEP THE CROWD BACK

Sunday football games on the Industrial League lot will have to be run like the high school games if a large attendance is expected.

The crowd must be kept back of the playing field and there appears to be only one way to do that, and that is to hire several policemen with authority. At high school games police are on the grounds and they keep the fans behind the wires, allowing the players ten feet or more on each side of the playing field. The Juniors cleared a neat sum above expenses yesterday and hereafter it would be a good idea to pay several dollars to uniformed police who would keep the fans off the field.

RETURNS TO NEW BOSTON SCHOOL

Barbour Counts, letter man from the New Boston high school eleven who quit the village team last week and came to Portsmouth and practiced with the P. H. S. eleven two days has quit the local school and returned to New Boston. Counts is a husky lad filled with the old fight and would have probably landed a regular berth on the P. H. S. team during the season. As P. H. S. plays New Boston this coming Saturday, Counts will not play with New Boston as he knows the P. H. S. signals.

ANGLING FOR ANOTHER CRACK AT BLAIR

(Chillicothe News-Advertiser)
Someone has mentioned Young Mayne as the next opponent for Nig Blair in this city. Nig-Nay Mayne is a prelin fighter despite a lucky good showing he recently made. A lucky blow gave him a decision over Carter recently, but Mayne would be pite for Blair.

Despite the fact that Blair kayoed Pete Sullivan several weeks ago, we believe that if Pete was matched again and went in and fought from the first round, he would give the River City resin shuffer a real battle. Nig still recalls how Pete jarred him in the second round, when he opened up and fought. Nig had a mouth full of loose teeth when he went home that evening.

Yale Displays Strength

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Displaying unusual early season strength, the performances of Yale and Penn State were outstanding among the few larger eastern colleges, whose eleven's kicked off in the opening games of the season.

Uncovering a powerful backfield attack led by Captain Jordan and a promising all round combination, the Blue eleven plucked its way to an easy victory over Bates, 48 to 0. Penn State was given nothing but a workout by St. Bonaventure, the final score being 54 to 0.

Replacing the other goal after touchdown, Saturday's play afforded an interesting test of the new rule permitting a try for point after touchdown. The new feature is a team effort whereas the former scoring attempt was an individual play.

In the Yale-Bates' game Yale elected after each touch down to try for a drop kick after the team lined up in front of the goal post on the five yard line. Six of seven attempts were successful.

Boston took a lead in the first inning, which was held until the seventh, when Pratt's error allowed the Tigers to tie the score. In the eighth doubles by Blue and Veach, two passes and two singles accounted for five Tiger runs. Score:

CARDS TOP GIANTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Although the Giants pulled the Cardinals Sunday, 11 to 10, the Champions were defeated, 10 to 6, chiefly through Rogers Hornsby's two home runs and a blow up by Ryan and Hill in the second inning. Sherdel was tight when the Giants had men on bases. Hornsby's two circuit drives were his forty-first and forty-second of the season.

The first was inside the park, a towering fly to the fence in left center. Hornsby converted it into a homer by a good sprint between third and home. His other four-base drive went into the upper right-field stand. Score:

DODGERS AND PIRATES EVEN

BROOKLYN, Sept. 25.—Brooklyn and Pittsburgh divided Sunday's double-header, the dodgers winning the first game, 4 to 2, and the Pirates the second, 11 to 2. Pinch hits and home runs featured the Brooklyn attack in the first game. Tom Griffith, batting for Janvin, started a rally in the eighth inning with a single.

He was forced by Johnston, but Wheat came along with his sixteenth home run of the season to tie the score. Mitchell, batting for Schumacher, tripled to start the ninth and High followed with a home run over the right field wall.

In the second game the Pirates bunched 10 hits and 10 runs off the Brooklyn pitchers in the sixth inning. The game was called at the end of the seventh because of darkness. Score:

OTWAY DEFEAT S SCIOTOVILLE

The Otway Black Sox walloped the Sciotoville aggregation 6 to 3 in a contest staged on the Otway diamond Sunday, the home team winning the combat mainly through the effective pitching of Beuding, who allowed the invaders but four hits and fanned 17. The visitors hurled two pitchers, B. Conley and "Rooster" Smith for 10 safe blows, including a trio of doubles, which netted six tallies, twice as many as the Sciotoville gang could muster at the finish.

Rarden Beats Red Sox

The Rarden nine dined the New Boston Red Sox in one of the most exciting and hotly contested battles of the season Sunday afternoon, the Champs counting the winning marker in the last half of the thirteenth round, breaking a tie which had existed for five innings.

The final count was 4 to 3, and Pitcher Ollie Jordan was a big factor and the hero of the handsome victory. The Champ speed merchant not only performed brilliantly but he cut in with a couple of timely blows, each good for two sacks, and both figured in the scoring, the last one coming in the fatal thirteenth when he let off with a slashing two-bagger and scored the necessary tally a moment later when Scott made a mad dash on C. Clark's roller to second.

Jordan's fast ball simply bewildered the enemy slingers, setting back seventeen of the invaders on strikes and with clean support he would have easily achieved a shutout. The visitors were unable to connect with his output with any degree of success and only misplays by the Champ fielders kept the Sox in the game.

Seisson also pitched well outside of one round, the fourth, when the Champs got to him for four solid blows which produced three markers. He was touched up rather lively on a couple of other occasions but was saved by fast support by his companions. Seisson vanished from the scene in the tenth when the first two Champ batters nicked him for hits, and Sam Mowery finished it out. He got by for a couple of rounds but the break came for the Champs in the thirteenth to the great delight of a big crowd of home fans.

"Bulger" Scott, Jordan and Synrony led at bat, the former slugging out two triples and Synrony garnered three hits. South's third base play was a feature of the combat and his hitting too was timely. The score:

THRIFTY FRANCE

FRENCH thrift is proverbial. Still, it is almost incredible that, as reported by the London Statist, this saving people have been able to subscribe for domestic loans to the amount of 113,000,000 francs in the three years, 1919-21. The bulk of the issues was by the government, whose bonds ever have been a favorite investment with Frenchmen on account of their absolute safety. But in the stringent period mentioned when private promises to pay have been less favored than before the war, these people have taken a good many thousands millions of railroad bonds.

It is noticeable that in the record of their investments in the last three years there is virtually no evidence that francs have been exchanged for foreign government securities. There was a time when France eagerly bought this class of paper, but the French have been so severely "burnt," notably by Russia, that they are chary of going abroad for investments. Furthermore, the demand for loans at home is so great all the cash available for investment is quickly absorbed.

But the significant feature of the Statist's report is that Frenchmen have had so much income of late that they could save 113,000,000 francs for investment in loans and probably a further large amount for other purposes. Those investments represent surplus income. So the French must be earning considerable money. And in order to earn they must be producing goods in large volume and selling them for cash. The conclusion must be that notwithstanding the drain of the war and of reconstruction, a long step has been taken by it toward re-establishment of its industry and commerce. To be sure, France is a long way from a normal state. The very fact that the government is compelled to borrow so heavily year after year evidences the financial plight in which the country was left. The French people will have to earn and save again all that they have loaned to government and domestic corporations, for only so will the debtors be able to repay that which has been borrowed. It is a good sign of the future prosperity of France, though, that domestic necessities have been supplied in this manner.

WIZARD'S PATHETIC HOPE

IT is so much easier to wish and find fault with disappointments than to work and achieve, that the former has become standard among a too large proportion of those who should know better. Luther Burbank, plant wizard of California, despairs because there is so much to do which he cannot hope to accomplish because of age. He would like to live to witness an improvement of the human race through the practical application of the laws through which he has advanced plant life, but realizes that his hope is in vain. Plants are amenable to the will of man, but this, according to Burbank, has never been realized by the general public until the last 25 years.

Probably the general public does not yet realize the fact and continues to call the wizard's wonderful achievements as "luck." He would die happier, he says, if he could see even a mere beginning made to the improvement of human life after the manner in which he has given the world hundreds of new varieties of plants, and fruits, and thousands of new forms and colors of flowers. He says it can be done but, as he philosophically observed, not within the years remaining to him.

SHARING BEAUTY THRONE

If one is going to look as if one were someone, femininely speaking, one must be tall or be disguised to appear tall. If one is slender in addition to being tall, so much the better. The good luck is all the greater. But if one is not slender then one must be disguised, again femininely speaking, to appear slender. The Fashion Art League of America in solemn convention assembled at Chicago has ordered that tall and slender women are to be this year's fall and winter fashion. Those constructed on the willowy model will have all the luck, but the saving clause is that those not tall and slender will be made to look that way.

Gowns will be built to fit snugly where snugness is imperative, and to prevent wrinkling where wrinkles would be fatal if not a crime, which in this case would be the worse of the two. The fashion shows may demonstrate that the gowns of the season look better on tall, slender women or make tall, slender women look better, as one prefers, but cannot prove that women not exactly tall enough to be tall, and thin enough to be "extremely slender" will not look well, too. There are women in America neither tall nor extremely slender who look well in anything they put on. They will not envy tall slender women their temporary seasonal advantage.

A geologist says the world is drifting away from the poles, but that isn't why many a man is hanging on to his straw hat.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Volstead, who is studying the divorce evil, will now prohibit it. It is too popular already.

The problem of whose perverted taste first thought parsnips were edible will probably never be solved.

It is hard to get unusual labor, farmers complain, this being the opposite viewpoint to the one that most farmers regard farm labor entirely too casual.

This thing of equality is going entirely too far. It is now recommended that women shall no longer have to promise to obey, but the men will continue to endow.

CHERBOURG

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

CHERBOURG, Sept. 25.—The special train leaving Gare St. Lazare in Paris for Cherbourg to catch the Aquatania scouted out at 10:55 in the morning. All the passengers were there at 10. One takes no chances of missing a steamer.

Booked in our compartment, according to the label on the window, were Samuel Fish and Eugene Hooke. Make your own pun. It is a tedious five hours to the docks. On the way French waitresses met the trains with glasses of draft beer. Mr. Fish gulped three in succession and went to sleep. I think he had a bad night.

Cherbourg is a typical French city with its main street along the water front and public square. There are souvenir shops and "Last Chance" bars. At Cherbourg the tourist meets the prize bandits of Europe in the luggage porters. No tip is big enough. Two fights developed between them and passengers.

The tender that carried us out to sea left in a drizzling rain. The deck of the ship was piled high with luggage. I sat down on a huge portmanteau. An excitable Frenchman protested. He said it had a weak lock. I tried another and this time an American voiced his protest. He was carrying valuable glassware.

After awhile a rather pretty girl sat down on my suitcase. I decided I would protest. I told her it was filled with hand-embroidered cap-canopiers. But she didn't see the point of my feeble joke and flipped away with her head in the air. Who knows? She may be a Duchess or something.

In about an hour we came to the Aquatania tugging at anchor. The passengers aboard welcomed us with cheers. The gangplank was hoisted and single file we made our way to the lower deck of the steamer. I remained there to watch for the transfer of my trunk from the tender. I know now why an indestructible trunk is utterly impossible.

On the ancient theory that when in Rome, etc., while I was in London, I invested in a pearl gray Alpine hat. And in Paris I came with a white ivory knob. Upon opening my trunk I found the cane snapped in two and the knob transmuted to ivory dust. A bottle of shoe cleaning liquid had removed the pearl effect from the hat, and having lost my passport, I have nothing to prove to doubting friends that I was in Europe. Still, they can go over and ask anybody.

In Paris I purchased a rather gaudy collar and leash for my dog. I remember the porter who packed my trunk telling me he had a fine dog. I don't want to harbor unjust suspicions, but if you get what I mean. The collar and leash are missing.

The stateroom steward on my deck could step into Laurence D'Orsay's old part at the Winter Gar-

Skirts

"You wear your skirts too short," he said.
She cried: "Where do you get that stuff?"
I've worn this skirt for three long years.
And surely that is long enough!"
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

She must have stretched the truth a bit.
For three long years ago, I vow.
The skirts, she would have to admit.
Were not so short as they are now.
—Newark (Ohio) Advocate.

It seems to us that you are right.
You cannot state the truth too strong.
Though short skirts now are fashion's height.
We have not seen the short skirts long.
—Houston (Texas) Chronicle.

You male men do not understand:
The facts you do abort.
While you cannot make short skirts long.
You can make long skirts short.
—Warren Tribune.

His Real Lack

"What, giving up already?" said the gentleman to a youthful angler.
"You must bring a little more patience with you next time, my boy."
"I ain't patience I'm out of, mister; it's worms," was the reply.

A Bit Skeptical

Country Doctor (after using stethoscope on patient): "Well, I've located the seat of your trouble, William."
Old Bill Jones (hereafter healthy man and boy): "I hope so, Doc, but to tell truth I ain't got no faith in divin' rods, be they old-fashioned or new-fangled."

A Knight of the Bath

Pat was helping the gardener on a country estate and, observing a shallow stone basin containing water, he inquired what it was for.
"That," said the gardener, "is a bird bath."
"Don't be foolin' me," grinned Pat.
"What is it?"
"A bird bath, I tell you. Why do you doubt it?"
"Because I don't believe there's a bird alive that can tell Saturday night from any other."
